FIRST QUARTER 2021

The COVID-19 pandemic marked the first three months of 2021 with persistently high infection rates and the spread of virus mutations slowing down the recovery of the global economy. More stringent containment measures imposed by governments led to a setback in economic activity and employment. Despite a gradual vaccination coverage of the population, the further development of the COVID-19 pandemic and the overall global economy remains uncertain. The capital markets and global investment levels remained stable, benefitting from economic stimulus measures taken by governments and favorable financing conditions.

According to the ECB's current forecast, the economy in the euro zone will grow by 4.0% this year. The ECB left its key interest rate unchanged at 0.00% during its March meeting.

The Federal Reserve's latest forecast projects the U.S. economy to grow by 6.5% in 2021. The U.S. Federal Reserve did not change the existing interest rates corridor of 0% to 0.25% at its March meeting.

Within this economic environment, the DAX increased by 9% in the first three months of 2021 to 15,008 points. The Fresenius share closed at €37.98 on March 31, 2021, almost unchanged over the same period.

- ▶ Fresenius Medical Care delivers solid first quarter

- ▶ Helios Germany continues to be compensated by government for foregone elective treatments; Helios Spain delivers significant sales and earnings growth given recovery of treatment activity

- ▶ Preparation of Group-wide initiatives to improve efficiency and profitability progressing

HEALTH CARE INDUSTRY

The health care sector is one of the world’s largest industries and we are convinced that it shows excellent growth opportunities.

The main growth factors are:

- ▶ rising medical needs deriving from aging populations, the growing number of chronically ill and multimorbid patients,
- ▶ stronger demand for innovative products and therapies, advances in medical technology,
- ▶ the growing health consciousness, which increases the demand for health care services and facilities, and
- ▶ the increasing demand for digital health services for patients.

In the emerging countries, additional drivers are:

- ▶ expanding availability and correspondingly greater demand for basic health care, and
- ▶ increasing national incomes and hence higher spending on health care.

Health care structures are being reviewed and cost-cutting potential identified in order to contain the steadily rising health care expenditures. However, such measures cannot compensate for the cost pressure. Market-based elements are increasingly being introduced into the health care system to create incentives for cost- and quality-conscious behavior. Overall treatment costs will be reduced through improved quality standards.

In addition, ever-greater importance is being placed on disease prevention and innovative reimbursement models linked to treatment quality standards.

The industry-specific framework for the operating business of the Fresenius Group remained essentially unchanged in 2021.

External factors

The COVID-19 pandemic has a significant impact on the economic environment of the Fresenius Group. We demonstrated our special responsibility as part of the health care system even under the difficult circumstances of the COVID-19 pandemic. With our products, services, and therapies, we have made an important contribution combating the COVID-19 pandemic worldwide. Despite partial government compensation, COVID-19 had an overall negative effect on the business, mainly due to restrictions imposed by the authorities in many of the Group’s important markets.

Nevertheless, Fresenius has come through the COVID-19 pandemic in an economically robust manner. Once again, our company's business development has proven to be comparatively stable and largely independent of economic cycles. Our diversification into four business segments and our global focus give the Group additional stability.

The legal framework for the operating business of the Fresenius Group remained essentially unchanged.

We carefully monitor and evaluate country-specific, political, legal, and financial conditions.

- ▶ Organic treatment growth impacted by COVID-19 pandemic as expected
- ▶ Reported revenue and earnings continued to be adversely affected by exchange rate effects
- ▶ Earnings development supported by phasing and expected lower SG & A expense anticipated to reverse throughout the year
- ▶ Financial targets for FY 2021 confirmed

Sales of Fresenius Medical Care decreased by 6% (increased by 1% in constant currency) to €4,210 million (Q1/20: €4,488 million). Thus, currency translation had a negative effect of 7%. Organic growth was 1%.

EBIT decreased by 15% (-8% in constant currency) to €474 million (Q1/20: €555 million) resulting in a margin of 11.3% (Q1/20: 12.4%). The decrease was mainly driven by effects from COVID-19 across all regions, higher personnel expenses and a significant negative exchange rate effect. Additionally, EBIT was negatively affected by a positive prior-year effect from the divestiture of cardiovascular clinics and a prior-year partial reversal of a revenue recognition adjustment. These negative effects were partially offset by an improved payor mix mainly driven by Medicare Advantage and expected lower SG & A expenses, which are anticipated to reverse in the remainder of the year.

Net income¹ decreased by 12% (-6% in constant currency) to €249 million (Q1/20: €283 million). Besides the above-mentioned operating earnings effects, net income was supported by a 27% decrease of net interest expense to €76 million (Q1/20: €104 million).

The first quarter 2020 included negative COVID-19 effects that reversed in Q2 2020, including the compensation received under the CARES Act, and therewith increase the base for the second quarter 2021. These base effects impact the phasing of net income growth in 2021.

Operating cash flow was €208 million (Q1/20: €584 million) with a margin of 4.9% (Q1/20: 13.0%). The decline was driven by the seasonality in invoicing and periodic delays in payment of public health care organizations.

Special items include costs related to FME25 and other effects that are unusual in nature and have not been foreseeable or not foreseeable in size or impact at the time of giving guidance.

- ▶ North America performance impacted by COVID-19 and temporary manufacturing issues
- ▶ Solid performance in Europe masked by prior-year COVID-19 related demand spike
- ▶ Emerging Markets showed strong sales and earnings growth; China with excellent performance given dynamic recovery of elective treatment activity

Sales decreased by 2% (increased by 4% in constant currency) to €1,761 million (Q1/20: €1,789 million). Organic growth was 3%. Negative currency translation effects of 6% were mainly related to weakness of the U.S. dollar, the Brazilian real and the Argentinian peso.

Sales in North America decreased by 17% (organic growth: -9%) to €558 million (Q1/20: €669 million). The decrease was driven by fewer elective treatments, competitive pressure, missing sales from a customer in Chapter 11 as well as temporary manufacturing issues which outweighed extra demand for COVID-19 related products.

Sales in Europe decreased by 1% (organic growth: -1%) to €626 million (Q1/20: €631 million) mainly related to the strong demand for COVID-19 related drugs in the prior year quarter.

Sales in Asia-Pacific increased by 23% (organic growth: 26%) to €392 million (Q1/20: €319 million). The growth is mainly due to a dynamic recovery of elective procedures and a meaningful COVID-19 impact lowering the prior year basis in China as well as a growing recovery in other Asian markets.

Sales in Latin America / Africa increased by 9% (organic growth: 28%) to €185 million (Q1/20: €170 million) due to ongoing COVID-19 related extra demand.

EBIT¹ decreased by 4% (increased by 2% in constant currency) to €276 million (Q1/20: €289 million) with an EBIT margin of 15.7% (Q1/20: 16.2%). The increase in constant currency was tempered by underutilized production capacities in the United States, competitive pressure coupled with selective supply constraints due to temporary manufacturing issues and the missing contribution from sales to a customer now in Chapter 11. EBIT was supported by positive COVID-19 effects, lower corporate costs due to travel restrictions and phasing of projects.

Net income^{1,2} decreased by 4% (increased by 3% in constant currency) to €190 million (Q1/20¹: €197 million).

Operating cash flow increased to €278 million (Q1/20: €174 million) with a margin of 15.8% (Q1/20: 9.7%) mainly due to working capital improvements driven by cash collections.

For FY/21, Fresenius Kabi confirms its outlook and expects organic sales¹ growth in a low-to-mid single-digit percentage range. Constant currency EBIT² is expected to show a stable development up to low single-digit percentage growth. Both sales and EBIT outlook include expected COVID-19 effects.

- ▶ Helios Spain delivers significant organic sales and earnings growth given recovery of treatment activity
- ▶ Helios Germany continues to be compensated by government for foregone elective treatments
- ▶ Growth additionally fueled by contributions from acquisitions in Germany and Latin America

Sales increased by 7% (8% in constant currency) to €2,649 million (Q1/20: €2,466 million). Organic growth was 4%. Acquisitions contributed 4% to sales growth.

Sales of Helios Germany increased by 4% (organic growth: 0%) to €1,673 million (Q1/20: €1,603 million). COVID-19 effects were mitigated by government compensation in regions with high COVID-19 incidences. The hospital acquisitions from the Order of Malta contributed 4% to sales growth.

Sales of Helios Spain increased by 13% (14% in constant currency) to €976 million (Q1/20: €863 million). Organic growth of 11% was driven by a strong recovery of elective procedures, a consistently high level of outpatient treatments and strong demand for occupational risk prevention (ORP) services. In addition, the hospitals in Latin America showed a strong performance. The hospital acquisitions in Colombia contributed 3% to sales growth.

EBIT of Fresenius Helios decreased by 2% (-1% in constant currency) to €268 million (Q1/20: €274 million) with an EBIT margin of 10.1% (Q1/20: 11.1%).

EBIT of Helios Germany decreased by 9% to €150 million (Q1/20: €165 million) with an EBIT margin of 9.0% (Q1/20: 10.3%). Government compensation broadly mitigated COVID-19 effects. The decrease was primarily caused by the impact of the carve-out of nursing expenses from the overall DRGs and the positive development of January and February last year.

EBIT of Helios Spain increased by 13% (14% in constant currency) to €126 million (Q1/20: €112 million) with an EBIT margin of 12.9% (Q1/20: 13.0%). Healthy organic sales growth led to a meaningfully improved coverage of the fixed cost base. The hospital acquisitions in Colombia made an additional contribution.

Net income¹ decreased by 2% (-1% in constant currency) to €173 million (Q1/20: €176 million).

Operating cash flow increased to €215 million (Q1/20: €145 million) with a margin of 8.1% (Q1/20: 5.9%), mainly due to working capital improvements driven by cash collections.

For FY/21, Fresenius Helios confirms its outlook and expects organic sales² growth in a low-to-mid single-digit percentage range and constant currency EBIT³ growth in a mid-to-high single-digit percentage range. Both sales and EBIT outlook include expected COVID-19 effects.

Sales decreased by 4% (-4% in constant currency) to €477 million (Q1/20: €499 million). Organic growth was -4%.

Sales in the service business increased by 2% (2% in constant currency) to €363 million (Q1/20: €357 million). Sales in the project business decreased by 20% (-20% in constant currency) to €114 million (Q1/20: €142 million), driven by postponements and cancellations of projects.

EBIT decreased by 129% (-129% in constant currency) to -€4 million (Q1/20: €14 million) with an EBIT margin of -0.8% (Q1/20: 2.8%). Large parts of the post-acute care clinic capacities were left partially empty given a generally lower intake of elective surgery patients from acute-care hospitals. Health-authority-induced restrictions or even closures of facilities also had a negative effect. In the project business, project delays and global supply chain restraints triggered incremental expenses.

Net income¹ decreased to -€7 million (Q1/20: €7 million).

Order intake was €138 million (Q1/20: €124 million). As of March 31, 2021, order backlog was at €3,082 million (December 31, 2020: €3,055 million). Order intake continued to be marked by COVID-19 related cancellations and project delays.

OPPORTUNITIES AND RISK REPORT

Compared to the presentation in the consolidated financial statements and the management report as of December 31, 2020 applying Section 315e HGB in accordance with IFRS, there has been the following important development in Fresenius' overall opportunities and risk situation until April 30, 2021.

The global COVID-19 pandemic continued to adversely affect our business in the first quarter of 2021. We expect further adverse effects on our business and result of operations for the second quarter of 2021, and also for the second half year of 2021. The further development of the world-wide situation in 2021 remains uncertain and depends on the progress of the vaccination campaigns as well as the spread of further virus variants. This may result in additional adverse effects on our financial results and our ability to achieve our Guidance.

A potential U.S. federal corporate tax increase of up to 7 percentage points as announced by U.S. President Joe Biden may have a negative impact on our net income in the current and in the coming fiscal years due to Fresenius' high proportion of business in the United States.

In the ordinary course of Fresenius Group's operations, the Fresenius Group is subject to litigation, arbitration as well as external and internal investigations relating to various aspects of its business.

The Fresenius Group regularly analyzes current information about such matters for probable losses and provides accruals for such matters, including estimated expenses for legal services, as appropriate.

We report on legal proceedings on pages 47 to 48 in the Notes of this report.

SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

April was characterized worldwide by a regionally varying development of the COVID-19 pandemic with continued high infection numbers as well as an increasing number of virus mutations. Currently, large-scale constraints of public and private life are therefore again enacted in various countries, for example in both Spain and Germany, in order to curtail the spread of COVID-19. The vaccination programs have started worldwide and the development in each country differs. The further development of the global situation and the impact on Fresenius remain uncertain.

Beyond that, there have been no significant changes in the industry environment. Furthermore, there have been no other events with a significant impact on the net assets, financial position and results of operations since the end of the first quarter of 2021.

RATING

Fresenius is covered by the rating agencies Moody's, Standard & Poor's and Fitch.

VIRTUAL ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The virtual Annual General Meeting 2021 of Fresenius SE & Co. KGaA will take place on May 21, 2021.

OUTLOOK 2021

COVID-19 ASSUMPTIONS FOR GUIDANCE FY/21

Q1/21 was characterized by a regionally varying development of the COVID-19 pandemic. Given continued high infection numbers as well as an increasing number of virus mutations, large-scale constraints of public and private life have been re-enacted in various countries. Vaccination programs are progressing worldwide at, however, varying pace.

COVID-19 will continue to impact Fresenius' operations in 2021. Current burdens and constraints caused by COVID-19 are expected to recede only in H2/21. The expected improvement in the Group's relevant business environment from H2/21 is heavily dependent on continuously increasing levels of vaccination coverage in Fresenius' relevant markets. These assumptions are subject to considerable uncertainty.

A deterioration of the situation requiring further containment measures in one or more of Fresenius' major markets, although becoming somewhat less likely does remain a risk. Any resulting significant and direct impact on the health care sector without any appropriate compensation is not reflected in the Group's FY/21 guidance.

FRESENIUS GROUP

For FY/21, Fresenius continues to project sales growth¹ in a low-to-mid single-digit percentage range and at least broadly stable net income^{2,3} year-over-year, both in constant currency. Implicitly, net income² for the Group excluding Fresenius Medical Care is expected to grow in a mid-to-high single-digit percentage range in constant currency.

SALES AND EARNINGS BY BUSINESS SEGMENT

In 2021, we expect sales and earnings development in our business segments as shown in the table on page 23.

EFFICIENCY AND COST SAVING MEASURES

To sustainably enhance profitability, Fresenius is preparing group-wide strategic efficiency initiatives. These initiatives are expected to consist of operational excellence and cost-saving measures, targeted strengthening of future growth areas and portfolio optimizations. They are targeted to result in cost savings of at least €100 million p.a. after tax and minority interest in 2023 with some further potential to increase thereafter. Achieving these sustainable efficiencies will require significant up-front expenses. On average for the years 2021 to 2023, those expenses are expected to be in the order of magnitude of €100 million p.a. after tax and minority interest. They will be classified as special items.

EXPENSES

For 2021, we do not expect selling, general, and administrative expenses as a percentage of consolidated net sales to change significantly compared to 2020 (2020: 13.7%).

³ FY/20 base: €1,796 million, before special items; FY/21: before special items

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

For 2021, we expect an operating cash flow margin in the range of 10% to 12%, lower than in FY/20 due to expected repayments of prepayments received in FY/20 under the CARES-Act in the United States at Fresenius Medical Care.

In addition, unused credit lines under syndicated or bilateral credit facilities from banks provide us with a sufficient financial cushion.

Financing activities in 2021 are largely geared to refinancing existing financial liabilities maturing in 2021 and 2022. A large part of the 2021 maturities, however, was already pre-financed with the issuance of bonds in 2020.

Fresenius projects net debt/EBITDA¹ to be around the top-end of the self-imposed target corridor of 3.0x to 3.5x by the end of FY/21.

INVESTMENTS

In 2021, we expect to invest about 6% of sales in property, plant and equipment. About 45% of the capital expenditure planned will be invested at Fresenius Medical Care, about 23% at Fresenius Kabi, and around 26% at Fresenius Helios.

At Fresenius Medical Care, investments will primarily be used for the expansion of production capacity, optimizing production costs, and the establishment of new dialysis clinics.

Fresenius Kabi will primarily invest in expanding and maintaining production facilities, as well as in introducing new manufacturing technologies.

At Fresenius Helios, we will primarily invest in the new buildings, in the modernizing and equipping of existing hospitals, and newly acquired hospitals. With a share of around 65%, Europe is the regional focus of investment in the planning period. Around 26% of the investments are planned for North America and around 9% for Asia, Latin America and Africa. About 35% of total funds will be invested in Germany.

We assume that the return on operating assets (ROOA) will decrease by 50 to 100 basis points compared to the level of 2020 (2020: 7.3%) and the return on invested capital (ROIC) will decrease by 40 to 70 basis points compared to the level of 2020 (2020: 6.5%).

CAPITAL STRUCTURE

For 2021, we do not expect the equity ratio to change significantly compared to 2020 (2020: 39%). Furthermore, we expect debt in relation to total assets to remain around prior year's level (2020: 39%).

DIVIDEND

The dividend increases provided by Fresenius in the last 27 years show impressive continuity. Our dividend policy aims to align dividends with earnings per share growth (before special items) and thus broadly maintains a payout ratio of 20% to 25%. Fresenius intends to increase the dividend for 2021.

I. GROUP STRUCTURE

Fresenius is a global health care group with products and services for dialysis, hospitals and outpatient medical care. In addition, the Fresenius Group focuses on hospital operations and also manages projects and provides services for hospitals and other health care facilities worldwide. Besides the activities of the parent company Fresenius SE & Co. KGaA, Bad Homburg v. d. H., Germany, the operating activities are organized amongst the following legally independent business segments as of March 31, 2021:

- ▶ Fresenius Medical Care
- ▶ Fresenius Kabi
- ▶ Fresenius Helios
- ▶ Fresenius Vamed

The reporting and functional currency of the Fresenius Group is the euro. In order to improve the clarity of presentation, amounts are generally presented in million euros. Amounts less than €1 million, after rounding, are marked with “-”.

II. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Fresenius SE & Co. KGaA, as a stock exchange listed company with a domicile in a member state of the European Union (EU), fulfills its obligation to prepare and publish the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as adopted by the EU and applying Section 315e of the German Commercial Code (HGB).

The consolidated interim financial statements and accompanying condensed notes are prepared in accordance with the International Accounting Standard (IAS) 34. The primary financial statements are presented in the format consistent with the consolidated financial statements as of December 31, 2020. The consolidated interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Standards and interpretations in effect on the reporting date, and endorsed in the EU, as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and the IFRS Interpretations Committee (IFRS IC).

The interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the same general accounting policies applied in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements as of December 31, 2020.

III. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of consolidation

The condensed consolidated financial statements and management report for the first quarter ended March 31, 2021 have not been audited nor reviewed and should be read in conjunction with the notes included and published in the consolidated financial statements as of December 31, 2020 applying Section 315e HGB in accordance with IFRS as adopted by the EU.

Except for the reported acquisitions (see note 2, Acquisitions, divestitures and investments), there have been no other material changes in the Fresenius Group’s consolidation structure.

The consolidated financial statements for the first quarter ended March 31, 2021 include all adjustments that, in the opinion of the Management Board, are of a normal and recurring nature and are necessary to provide a fair presentation of the assets and liabilities, financial position and results of operations of the Fresenius Group.

The results of operations for the first quarter ended March 31, 2021 are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations for the fiscal year 2021.

Classifications

Comparative information for certain items have been reclassified to conform with current year’s presentation.

In the business segment Fresenius Medical Care, in the consolidated statement of income, selling, general and administrative expenses related to the amortization of acquired technology and other costs in the amount of €20 million for the first quarter ended March 31, 2020 have been reclassified to cost of sales.

Furthermore, in the business segment Fresenius Medical Care, in the consolidated statement of income, gain related to divestitures of Care Coordination activities in the amount of €24 million for the first quarter ended March 31, 2020, which was previously presented separately, has been included within selling, general and administrative expenses.

Moreover, in the business segment Fresenius Medical Care, in the first quarter of 2020, as a result of further analysis of the contracts related to a multi-currency notional pooling cash management system, cash and cash equivalents and short-term debt associated with this system which were previously presented on a gross basis are presented on a net basis in the consolidated financial statements. In the consolidated statement of cash flows, proceeds from short-term debt and cash and cash equivalents at the end of the reporting period for the three months ended March 31, 2020 decreased by €352 million.

Government grants and impacts of COVID-19 pandemic

In the first quarter of 2021, the Fresenius Group received reimbursement payments and funding from various governments due to the COVID-19 pandemic. They have been accounted for in accordance with terms and regulations set forth in by the local laws and regulations.

The developments of the most significant programs in the first quarter of 2021 which have impacted the Fresenius Group's business are in Germany and the United States as follows:

The hospitals of the Fresenius Group in Germany have also in the first quarter of 2021 received reimbursements and grants under the revised COVID-19 Hospital Relief Act ("Gesetz zum Ausgleich COVID-19 bedingter finanzieller Belastungen der Krankenhäuser und weiterer Gesundheitseinrichtungen"). Since January 1, 2021, the compensation received for reserved beds is based on incidence values and is also linked to the sales in 2019.

In the first quarter of 2021, the German hospitals of the Fresenius Group received total reimbursements and grants of €205 million, of which €196 million were recorded in sales and €9 million as grants in other operating income.

The remaining amount of U.S. government relief funding which Fresenius Medical Care North America received in the United States under the CARES Act (Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act) recorded in deferred income was US$17 million (€14 million) and US$22 million (€18 million) at March 31, 2021 and December 31, 2020, respectively. In 2020, the Fresenius Group also recorded a contract liability for advance payments received under the CMS Accelerated and Advance Payment program within short-term provisions and other short-term liabilities and long-term provisions and other long-term liabilities. Contract liabilities related to the CMS Accelerated and Advance Payment program were US$1,046 million (€892 million) and US$1,046 million (€852 million) as of March 31, 2021 and December 31, 2020, respectively. Beginning on April 1, 2021, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) began recouping these accelerated and advance payments from Fresenius Medical Care.

In addition to the programs above, the Fresenius Group also received grants and other reimbursements in the first quarter of 2021 under various other programs from multiple governments around the world in the amount of €24 million. In Spain, the agreements made in 2020 with public and private payers were further clarified in the first quarter of 2021.

Use of estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

IV. RECENT PRONOUNCEMENTS, APPLIED

The Fresenius Group has prepared its consolidated financial statements at and for the three months ended March 31, 2021 in conformity with IFRS, as adopted by the EU, that must be applied for the interim periods starting on or after January 1, 2021.

For the first quarter of 2021, there were no recently implemented accounting pronouncements that had a material effect on the Fresenius Group's consolidated financial statements.

V. RECENT PRONOUNCEMENTS, NOT YET APPLIED

The IASB issued the following new standards relevant for the Fresenius Group's business:

In January 2020, the IASB issued Amendments to IAS 1, Classification of Liabilities as Current and Non-current. The amendments clarify under which circumstances debt and other liabilities with an uncertain settlement date should be classified as current or non-current. Among others, the amendments state that liabilities shall be classified depending on rights that exist at the end of the reporting period and define under which conditions liabilities might be settled by cash, other economic resources or equity. On July 15, 2020, the IASB deferred the effective date by one year to provide companies with more time to implement any classification changes resulting from the amendments. The amendments to IAS 1 are now effective for fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2023. Earlier adoption is permitted. The Fresenius Group is currently evaluating the impact of the amendments to IAS 1 on the consolidated financial statements.

In May 2017, the IASB issued IFRS 17, Insurance Contracts. IFRS 17 establishes principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure related to the issuance of insurance contracts. IFRS 17 replaces IFRS 4, Insurance Contracts, which was brought in as an interim standard in 2004. IFRS 4 permitted the use of national accounting standards for the accounting of insurance contracts under IFRS. As a result of the varied application for insurance contracts, there was a lack of comparability among peer groups. IFRS 17 eliminates this diversity in practice by requiring all insurance contracts to be accounted for using current values. The frequent updates to the insurance values are expected to provide more useful information to users of financial statements. On June 25, 2020, the IASB issued amendments to IFRS 17, which among others, defer the effective date to fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2023. Earlier adoption is permitted for entities that have also adopted IFRS 9, Financial Instruments, and IFRS 15, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The Fresenius Group is currently evaluating the impact of IFRS 17 on the consolidated financial statements.

The EU Commission's endorsement of the amendments to IAS 1 is still outstanding.

In the Fresenius Group's view, there are no other IFRS standards or interpretations not yet effective that would be expected to have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

2. ACQUISITIONS, DIVESTITURES AND INVESTMENTS

The Fresenius Group made acquisitions, investments and purchases of intangible assets of €149 million and €412 million in the first quarter of 2021 and 2020, respectively. Of this amount, €135 million was paid in cash and €14 million was assumed obligations in the first quarter of 2021. There were no individually material transactions which have occurred during the first quarter of 2021.
